'Tooling your staff to do the business'

Business' dilemma

Managing staff effectively is a major challenge for business' today. The need to be competitive and yet remain within employment legislation often falls on the shoulders of the line manager. For the business there is a real danger of getting this balance wrong. The price of getting this wrong can be very costly. Present employer costs for a Breach of Contracts is £25K (max), Unfair Dismissal is around £63,000 but for Health & Safety or Whistle Blowing the payout cost is unlimited. Beside these financial costs, the hidden cost of the managers time and cost of unhappy and de-motivated staff is difficult to measure except perhaps, in lower morale, decreased productivity and an increase in staff turnover.

So what 's the answer?

RESOLVE HR Ltd provides professional support for managers to help manage staff more effectively. Human Resources Consultancy has been described as 'Strategic Personnel' and this is exactly what it can be for your business. We can help motivate and develop your staff to reach their potential.

Often companies are unable to afford a full time Personnel Officer but they still need to conform to current employment legislation and at the same time remain competitive? This is where RESOLVE HR Ltd can help. If you require HR support but don't wish to pay for a full time HR Manager (£30K p.a. or more) then using these professional services can help save you money and increase productivity.
